

Figure S4. Miranda-predicted targets with conserved regions in their 3'-UTRs have an expression distribution biased toward more tissues than the expression distribution of all genes.